Greensboro, NC...Greensboro Caterer Nominated for National Award

Greensboro's exclamations catering and event specialist has been nominated for the third year in a row for the prestigious Achievement in Catering Excellence (ACE) Award. The ACE Award recognizes companies that have shown noteworthy achievement in the catering industry through culinary, business, community and professional development. One of five nominees from the South region, exclamations catering and event specialist is the only nominee from North Carolina.

Five winners are chosen annually on a regional basis, one each from the Midwest, South, East, West and International regions. Winners will be announced and awards presented at the annual catersource Conference & Tradeshow, the largest gathering of caterers in the world.

Catersource provides business and culinary education for all types and sizes of companies that offer catering to their customers - including on and off-premise caterers, banquet facilities, restaurant and club facilities, contract non-commercial caterers, and other foodservice professionals. In addition, catersource provides consulting, training and evaluation for all types of catering businesses.

"The ACE Award is to the catering industry what the Oscars are to the film industry," said Ed Currie of the nomination. He and his wife and business partner Anna Galloway-Currie will travel to Las Vegas on March 8 to the catersource Conference & Tradeshow at which the winners will be announced.

Collectively, Ed Currie and Anna Galloway-Currie of exclamations catering and event specialist have nearly 50 years of experience in the catering and special events industry. With a focus on the total event, they are a full-service custom event caterer that puts the "special" back in special event with food of uncommon quality and presentation, an experienced and professional staff, unique themes and creative décor, specialty linens, floral, service ware, rentals, and music. The company was named "Retailer of the Year" in 2006 by the Greensboro Merchant's Association and Chamber of Commerce, the first time a caterer or restaurant was honored.
